

Longmont Legacy

Celebrating 9 years of giving back to the community, Longmont Legacy is an active, engaging and fun way to conduct your charitable giving. Longmont Legacy members pool their resources to benefit local nonprofits. Members meet socially to volunteer at agencies and determine how to allocate available funds. This is a hands-on group that likes to donate money and time to specific nonprofits focused on education and children's services. Since its inception, Longmont Legacy has given over $57,000 to local nonprofits.

Some of Legacy's past activities include:

- Supporting Hospice of Boulder and Broomfield Counties Camp Erin program that provides support for children affected by the loss of a parent.
- Adoption of an apartment at The Atwood Shelter, the local emergency family housing shelter. Longmont Legacy members provided necessary housing items (toiletries and supplies) so that the families can save the money they are making to move into housing when they leave the shelter
- Gathered and delivered school supplies for Spangler Elementary students
- Assisted Spangler students on a field trip to Cal-Wood. This trip was for many of these children the first time they had ever spent the night in the mountains.
- Longmont Legacy provides the resources for a $1,000 scholarship to a student graduating from a high school in the St. Vrain Valley who will attend Front Range Community College (FRCC) in the fall. Applications and decisions on recipients will be made by FRCC.

In addition to participating in the philanthropic efforts, you can join other Legacy members for social gatherings, receive recognition, and receive a tax deduction for your gift. It's a great way to meet new friends and make a difference in the community.
